

Exhibits at the Lorenzo Cultural Center

UPCOMING EXHIBITS

And Still They Prospered: Living Through the Great Depression

February 27 - May 8, 2010

The Lorenzo Cultural Center takes a look at one of the most difficult times in United States history. Learn about innovation, courage & perseverance, creativity, cooperation & compassion, escapism and the financial collapse.

- The Way We Worked Show/Hide Details
- Uneasy Years: Michigan Jewry during Depression and War Show/Hide Details
- Clarke Family Quilt Collection Show/Hide Details

From the Michigan State University Museum

Examples from the collection, including quilts and quilt tops completed between 1926 and 1946, reflecting the resurgence of interest in quilting and the domestic arts during the Great Depression.

Quilting in Detroit in the 1930s

Sunday, April 11 - 2 p.m.

Beth Donaldson, collections assistant at the Great Lakes Quilt Center at the Michigan State University Museum, discusses the vibrant quilt revival of the era and showcases Depression-era quilts from her private collection. Those attending are encouraged to bring their quilts from the 1930s for a show-and-tell.

You can register online at:

<http://www.lorenzoculturalcenter.com/schedule/registration.asp> or at (586) 445-7348

Map on back

MAP

The Lorenzo Cultural Center is located in "K" building on the map below.

